Dedications

The dedication of the Trillium yearbook is one of the highest honors bestowed upon a Co-Lin administrator, faculty or staff member. The recipient is someone who has shown true dedication and love for Co-Lin as their job, day-in and day-out. They follow in the footsteps of many before them who have made Co-Lin "the place to be."

Kendall Chapman, Wesson Campus

"He is a dedicated Director of Library Resources who encourages us to provide the best service possible to the faulty, staff and students of Copiah-Lincoln Community College."

- Sonya Cowen
Assistant Librarian

By Natalie Davis

If you are looking for information, Ken Chapman is the person to help you. As the Director of Library Resources, Chapman has spent 34 years assisting students, faculty and staff find the answers and information they are looking for.

He spends countless hours evaluating and improving Co-Lin's library services and continuously secures and updates databases to meet the needs of students and faculty. Since 2003, the number of student computers in the Oswalt Library had increased from 12 to 42 in 2010. Chapman works tirelessly with the faculty to secure the resources needed for instruction and research.

Chapman has also directed Co-Lin's efforts with Southern Association of Colleges and Schools (SACS) having served as the college's Self-Study Director and Co-Chairman. He served as Chairman of the SACS Substantive Change Committee for Mississippi Virtual Community College in 2001 and has participated in 29 SACS visits.

In addition, Chapman has established an archive and history collection in the Oswalt Library as well as co-authored a book, Almost a Hundred, a History of Copiah-Lincoln Agricultural High School and CLCC.

"Ken is a priceless resource on this campus for so many reasons," said Brenda Smith, Dean of Students. "His contributions working with the SACS and researching Co-Lin's history is invaluable."

As chairman of Co-Lin's homecoming luncheon committee, Chapman has spent many hours over the years making sure that Co-Lin alumni and friends are welcomed and have a pleasant environment in which to visit.

A active member of the community, Chapman has served as president of the Brookhaven Breakfast Kiwanis Club and has been named Brookhaven Career Technology Parent of the Year and District Career Technology Parent of the Year. He has served as president and vice president of the Mississippi Library Association and the National Library Chairman. Selected as Co-Lin's first Outstanding Staff Member, Chapman has also received Co-Lin's High Performance Award.

He and his wife, Susan, are the parents of two children, Jim and Elizabeth, and are the grandparents of three.

Nancy McLemore, Natchez Campus

By Mark LaFrancis

Without a doubt, Nancy McLemore has made a significant impact at the Natchez campus. She was appointed director of the Willie Mae Dunn Library in 2003, and from the moment she started her new position, she spun into action.

"Nancy is one of those people who is dedicated to providing outstanding customer service," said Vice President Teresa Busby. "She often and with amusement refers to herself as an 'Information Goddess,' but in all seriousness, she never tires of finding new ways to make information accessible to faculty, staff and the public."

"I've tried to make the library more user friendly," she said. Creating the Open Book Cafe, has been one of her various ideas. The cafe provides hot coffee, tea or cocoa along with comfortable seating and a quiet atmosphere. She also has added a wide range of internet software for research as well as sponsoring art and photography exhibits in the library.
A voracious reader, McLemore is a strong supporter of the Open Book Club, a discussion group founded by the library staff that invites students and staff to read and talk about a book a month.

Before being hired at Co-Lin, McLemore was Learning Resource Director for six years at Alcorn State University's School of Nursing, and librarian and library coordinator for the Natchez/Adams County School District for 18 years. Previously, McLemore worked as an English instructor for both Shady Grove High School in Iberville Parish and Vidalia High School.

At Co-Lin, McLemore has coordinated the campus' collection for the United Way of the Miss-Lou. "United Way is a really good cause," said McLemore. She is co-advisor to the campus chapter of Phi Theta Kappa Honor Society. She received the Howell C. Garner High Performance Award, and was selected the Co-Lin Foundation 2010 Outstanding Faculty/Staff member.

"Nancy is highly respected by students and staff, and goes out of her way to interact with and make them feel welcome in the library," Busby said. "She eagerly volunteers to help with projects and events, and I honestly cannot remember when I didn't see a smile on her face. This dedication is richly deserved."

Anika Floyd, Simpson County Center

By Dr. John Dickerson

Anika Floyd, Admissions Coordinator and Adjunct Instructor for the Simpson County Center, is the first person many new students meet when they arrive on campus. Floyd treats all students with sincere patience, compassion, and concern. Her focus is always on ensuring that they have the information they need to be successful as she guides them through anything from admissions, financial aid, advisement, registration, graduation checklists, or simply even the learning objectives of the course she is instructing.

Floyd consistently explores ways to promote the Simpson County Center to our community. She has represented the college at community events, in churches, and in local high schools making sure that as many people as possible are aware of their educational opportunities.

The definition of selflessness is "the act of sacrificing one's own interest for the greater good." This definition describes Anika Floyd as she consistently puts the interests of the students and her fellow faculty and staff members before her own. The Simpson County Center expresses sincere appreciation and is very thankful for the tremendous positive influence that Anika has had and continues to have on us all.

Floyd, who was selected for the High Performance Award in 2008, is completing her 5th year at the Simpson County Center. She and her husband, Anthony, are the parents of three children and one grandchild.

Homecoming 2010

"Let the Good Times Roll!"

Homecoming week was a huge success full of fun events for students and faculty on campus. Each year, a new Homecoming Queen is elected. This year, the student body elected Whitney Clark (right), escorted by her father, Frederick Clark, as the 2010 Homecoming Queen. Clark, along with each Homecoming Maid and her escort (below), was presented to the crowd in attendance at Stone Stadium. The day included a luncheon recognizing outstanding alumni, faculty, and staff, and a tailgate party attended by alumni, friends and their children. Everyone enjoyed reuniting on campus and the Wolfpack celebrated a Homecoming victory over the Pearl Rver Wildcats in front of a packed stadium.

Walker leaves legacy at Co-Lin

By Angela Furr
Associate Director of Alumni Affairs

The name Burlian Walker is practically synonymous with Co-Lin. His love for the college was evident to anyone who knew him.

Walker passed away in October 2010 after a lengthy illness, but his kind heart and passion for his work live on at Co-Lin by all those who knew and loved him.

He served Co-Lin as director of public information for 32 years. In addition, he was executive director of the Co-Lin foundation and alumni affairs, advisor to the Wolf Tales campus newspaper and Trillium yearbook as well as the campus radio station and the Trailblazers. He also taught journalism and radio broadcasting courses, and judged, emceed and directed numerous beauty pageants on campus and throughout the state.

Dr. Howell Garner, former Co-Lin president, worked with Walker for many of his 32 years. "Burlian was a solid Co-Lin employee who was passionate about Co-Lin from his time as a student to when he came back to work. He put his heart and soul into everything he did," Garner said.

Dr. Ronnie Nettles, current president of the college, agreed. "Burlian touched so many lives while at Co-Lin and will certainly be missed by generations of former students. At the same time he cared for the future of the college and established permanent scholarships to assist Co-Lin students. His love for the college will be felt for years to come," Nettles said.

Walker's love for Co-Lin began as a student in 1960. He was liked by his peers and was involved in many campus organizations such as th yearbook staff, the cheerleaders and the Young Men's Christian Association. After Co-Lin, he transferred to the University of Southern Mississipp where he earned a bachelor's degree in journalism. He was involved in the student newspaper, Alpha Phi Omega and was editor of the campu directory. He completed additional study at Southern Miss and The University of Mississippi and received his lifetime radiotelephone license from the Federal Communications Commission.

He began his career as a reporter for The Magee Courier in 1963. He taught and served as chairman of the English department at Magee Hig School from 1964-1965, and was a clerk with the U.S. House of Representatives in 1966 before coming to Co-Lin in 1967 where he remaine until his retirement in 1999.

Natalie Davis, director of public information at Co-Lin, remembers her first days on the job as Walker's successor. "To follow in Burlian's footstep was no easy task, he was a legend here. I can remember joking with him about being introduced as 'the new Burlian Walker' and everyone sayin 'OK, well how is Burlian?' Davis said. "He was loved, respected, and admired not only by the 'Co-Lin family,' but by his colleagues at othe institutions. He was a friend, mentor, and instructor to so many, especially his students, and he will be remembered for his love of Co-Lin an the impact he made on the thousands of students he taught."

Walker was honored with countless awards during his career, including being selected to Outstanding Young Men of America in 1972 and th 1976 edition of Men of Achievement published by the International Biographical Centre in Cambridge, England, a dedication of the 1976 Trillium Yearbook, the Service Award in 1980, Outstanding Instructor of the Year in 1984, and the Ann Bradberry Award and Co-Lin Alumnus of the Yea in 1999. He was honored for his writing by the College Public Relations Association of Mississippi and was awarded a plaque by the Mississipp Junior College Press Association for 21 years of loyal service in 1988. He received an honorary membership into the Eta Omega Chapter of Ph Theta Kappa at Co-Lin in 2009.

Walker bids farewell

Changes are often difficult and for me that is an understatement.

My decision to retire on June 30, was the most difficult thing I have ever had to do.

How does one leave a place you have loved for so long? I came to Co-Lin as a student in May, 1960, and left in January, 1962. My time as a student was filled with many campus activities and I simply fell in love with Co-Lin.

I was given the opportunity to return to Co-Lin and began my 32-year career on July 1, 1967.

I am ever grateful to the three presidents under whom I have served – the late Mr. F. M. Fortenberry, Dr. Billy B. Thames, and Dr. Howell C. Garner. I appreciate their guidance through the years.

I am also thankful to Co-Lin's administration, staff, and faculty for their support throughout the years and for the close friendships I developed with so many.

There are volumes of memories stored in my head of the people I have known and loved through the years. For a former student to return, call, or write and tell me what I meant to him or her made all the work worthwhile.

In the 20 years as alumni director, I became so close to so many former students of all ages. So many I became close to lost their lives and I often found myself grieving over their deaths.

I almost lost my life to lung cancer two years ago. Perhaps, I should have retired then, but I needed the security that Co-Lin and my friends and family provided.

I realized this past year that it was time to leave, as work became more and more difficult. I did not want to leave Co-Lin, but the time had arrived.

Co-Lin has been good to me. I hope I have been good for Co-Lin.

I am now making my home in Hattiesburg. Co-Lin, however, will never be far from my heart.

Goodbye, my many friends!

Burlian Walker

Walker was active in community and civic organizations such as the American Cancer Society, the Lion's Club and St Jude Children's Research Hospital. He was president of the Co-Lin Alumni Association, a member of the Southern Miss Alumni Association, the Mississippi Journalism Association, and the College Public Relations Association of Mississippi and served on the boards of many organizations such as the Brookhaven Little Theatre and directed six productions for the theater.

After retiring from Co-Lin, Walker moved to Hattiesburg where was active in the community as long as his health allowed. One of his proudest accomplishments later in his life was serving as chair of the Smoke Free Hattiesburg Group for five years, helping to establish the city as a "Smoke Free City."

Even while living in Hattiesburg, Co-Lin was close to his heart. He visited as often as he could and contributed to scholarships such as the Dr. Phyllis Hayes Lanier Science Scholarship, which he established in 2000, the Arlee W. Walker Pre-Professional Science Scholarship established by Lanier in memory of Walker's mother in 1981 and the Burlian O'Neal Walker Communications Scholarship that he established in 2002. He was named to the Foundation Hall of Fame, an elite group of donors to the Co-Lin Foundation, in 2004.

"Co-Lin was everything to him, besides his family," Walker's sister, Audrey Walker Andrews said. "He was so proud to be able to establish scholarships and to support the students there and he continued to keep in contact with the students who received them. He was so proud of their accomplishments."

Walker spent his last months in and out of hospitals and in the end, a swing bed in Magee. No matter how bad he felt, he remained positive and never stopped praying for others. He kept an extensive prayer list and continued to request prayers for all of his friends, even in his final days.

"I never knew how many lives he touched until after his death," Andrews said. "It is so special to us to know how much he meant to so many people."

Walker was known as an outstanding instructor and employee, but his former colleagues and students remember him as a friend.

Melissa Mayer ('86), one of Walker's former students, says she uses the writing skills that Walker taught her every day in her career in public relations. "I remember we were working late one night on the newspaper to publish the special homecoming edition," Mayer said, "Burlian taught us a lesson that evening not only in word usage, but in grace and tact. Going over our copy he corrected gently as he always did, saying 'Remember, at homecoming we never have 'old' homecoming queens, cheerleaders or Colettes- we use the word 'former.' Our homecoming queens, cheerleaders and dancers never grow old; they only grow more radiant as the years go by.'"

It seemed only fitting that Burlian Walker slipped out of this life and into the next during homecoming week. He will be remembered forever at Co-Lin, not as having grown old and ill, but as a radiant ambassador for Co-Lin until the very end.

Graduation

Graduation is a very special time on all three Co-Lin campuses. The Wesson Campus held its 95th commencement on May 15, 2010, in H. L. Stone Stadium. The Natchez Campus held its 38th commencement on May 14, at the Natchez Convention Center and the Simpson County Center held their 4th commencement at Magee High School. Co-Lin was proud to have over 700 students graduate.

It was also a monumental year for Co-Lin as the college held it's first-ever December graduation on December 16, 2010, in Rea Auditorium on the Wesson Campus with over 60 students from all three campuses participating.

Students learn about Robotics and Space

Natalie Davis

The Co-Lin Science Division held their second annual Robotics and Space Exploration Camp in July on the college's Wesson Campus. The camp is designed for students entering the fifth, sixth or seventh grades.

"We had a great turnout for the camp last year and it is a good fit for the community," said Dr. Kevin McKone, Co-Lin Science Division Chair.

Students will learn the basics of robotic design and programming, build and design a space robot, learn about summer constellations and use a robotic telescope.

The first three days campers met Smith Hall and worked on their robotic designs. The last two days they traveled and spent the night at French Camp, MS, and viewed the night sky at French Camp Academy's Rainwater Observatory and Planetarium. The Rainwater Observatory and Planetarium is an educational ministry of French Camp Academy. The Observatory, the largest in the state, has 16 telescopes, a planetarium and an extensive astronomy library plus other optical instruments.

Saluting Our Veterans

By Mark LaFrancis

Veterans Day, formerly known as Armistice Day, was originally set as a U.S. legal holiday to honor the end of World War I, which officially took place on November 11, 1918. In legislation that was passed in 1938, November 11 was "dedicated to the cause of world peace and to be hereafter celebrated and known as 'Armistice Day.'" As such, this new legal holiday honored World War I veterans.

In 1954, after having been through both World War II and the Korean War, the 83rd U.S. Congress -- at the urging of the veterans service organizations -- amended the Act of 1938 by striking out the word "Armistice" and inserting the word "Veterans." With the approval of this legislation on June 1, 1954, Nov. 11 became a day to honor American veterans of all wars.

The Natchez hosted its third annual Co-Lin Salutes Veterans programs, which included a Veterans Day Program Nov. 11, an American Flag Retirement Ceremony on Nov. 13, and a collection for soldiers overseas and veterans at the G. V. "Sonny" Montgomery Veterans Medical Center in Jackson.

One new feature wass a special two-minute film created for the program with Co-Lin staff and students.

In addition to the program, Co-Lin sponsor edseveral soldier- and veteran-related activities.

Collection for Veterans: Co-Lin is collected donations to the G. V. Sonny Montgomery Veterans Medical Center in Jackson and delivered the collections to the Center in early December. Items included new T-shirts, underwear and socks; gift cards for Wal-Mart and K-Mart; writing pads, pens, pencils, envelopes, stamps (forever stamps).

Collection for our soldiers overseas: Co-Lin collected donations to send to our troops overseas. Items included writing pads (pocket size), pens, pencils, envelopes, baby wipes in small packages, fruit packs, granola bars.

Christmas Cards for soldiers and veterans were sent by students with a personalized message to veterans and troops in a Christmas Card.

American Flag Retirement Ceremony was held on Saturday, Nov. 13, in the parking lot near the bookstore. They properly retiring tattered U.S. Flags and were joined by veterans and area Scouting groups.

The Wesson Campus held a wreath-laying ceremony on Veteran's Day at the veterans' memorial in front of Oswalt Library. All citizens of the district's counties were invited to attend. Prior to the start of the ceremony, refreshments were served to those in attendance in the lobby of the Ewing Administration Building. Students and community residents to met and greeted veterans and their families from across the district. A wreath-laying service was conducted by members of the Eta Omega Chapter of Phi Theta Kappa and the Student Veterans Association.

After the ceremony, students, staff and guests had the opportunity to view a display by the local VFW and American Legion posts in the lobby of the Administration Building.

The College's Cosmetology Department pre-arranged haircut appointments for women and men veterans by students in the department. Each veteran volunteer was given at least three appointment slots to award to veterans in the community. The veteran volunteers were members of the Student Veterans Association. Veteran's Day activities were coorindated by Tim Lea.

Howell C. Garner Instructional Center

By Mark LaFrancis and Natalie Davis

Dedication ceremonies for the Howell C. Garner Instructional Center were held on Thursday, March 3, 2011.

The $4.2 million, 24,500 square-foot facility is home to respiratory care, practical nursing, certified nursing assistant and ENT programs.

The new building will have six classrooms, one science lab, four health care labs, one computer lab and a conference room. New, state-of-the art equipment includes an impulse oscillometry, which measures airway obstructions.

Walt Wilson, Respiratory Care instructor, is anxious to move out of the Career and Technical Education Center. "The new health building is phenomenal!" Wilson said. "The lab is specifically designed for Respiratory Care Technology, and we will be the envy of the southeast, if not the country. We will be THE state-of-the-art program in Mississippi. Our program has been successful, but this new facility will only enhance our students' success."

Co-Lin received a $740,000 grant to buy equipment and technology for the building through the Southwest Mississippi Electric Power Association.

"Watching the building develop from the ground up has been an exciting experience," said Vice President Teresa Busby. "Our contractors are professional and great to work with. I've learned a lot about constructing a building! We are pleased with the progress and looking forward to moving into this state-of-the-art building."

Garner was Co-Lin's sixth president, serving from 1997 until his retirement in 2008, and served Co-Lin for more than three decades. He currently serves as executive director of the Mississippi Community College Foundation.

Ground was broken on the center on Oct. 1, 2009. Site work began in early November for the 25,500-square-foot, $4.2 million building. Clark Construction Co. completed the building's construction.

A man of many faces

By Nathanael Gassett

Natchez resident Dwight Williams has been a ghost, a beast, a wizard, and countless other characters.

Williams got his start in the theater during the summer of 2005 when he received a phone call from Julie Timm, a friend of his mother's, asking if he would like to join a summer workshop at the Natchez Little Theater. While Williams didn't sign up until the last day of registration, he would never be the same.

"[Being in the theater] has also taught me not to limit myself," Williams said, recalling his performance of the ghost of Jacob Marley in the Natchez Little Theater's production of "The Natchez Christmas Carol." Williams was only 17 at the time, and was nervous about playing a character typically portrayed by older men.

"Instead of going back and looking at all the other guys who have played him, I did something different; I did it my way. And with a lot of make-up and costuming I presented this character, and it turned it out better than expected. I won three awards for that role, and people were raving that I was the best Marley that we (at the Natchez Little Theater) had done. So try not to set limitations for yourself, always be willing to try something, always give it a shot, because you can even surprise yourself, as well as others."

Williams isn't the only one full of surprises. Being a part of the theater has also given him the opportunity to witness dramatic changes in others as well.

"For one thing, people are very unpredictable. You never know what they are going to do, especially in live theater. You can take someone who works at a bank, and they get cast as a lunatic, and on stage they are so full of life! Like nothing you would have ever expected to see. It's always fun seeing what people can do."
Things don't always go as planned either, as Williams explains one embarrassing moment during a performance of "The Wizard of Oz."

"There was a scene at the end when I go from being Oz, floating up in the balloon, to the very next seen as Professor Marvel. That meant an incredibly fast clothes change.

So I get on stage, and as Dorothy is lying on the ground and I'm yelling "Dorothy, get up! Are you okay?"

And as she is talking to the Lion, I look down and realize that my zipper is undone."

Williams tried not to show any expression on his face, but rather he discreetly slipped behind on of the farmers, and, as casually as possible, zipped back up.

"And it worked out pretty well, because out of all the people I talked to, only one person noticed it."
When asked about his dream role, Williams said that he would love to play Hamlet, the classic Shakespearean character tortured by an array of passions.

"Right now, at my age, I would love to play Hamlet. That would just make my year, for the simple fact that I love diversity. I love characters that bring out emotions. With Hamlet, he has so much going on: love, hate, jealously, every emotion going for him, and he's confused. To try and bring that out on stage, I would see as an incredible challenge, and one that I would love to attempt."

Williams began attending Copiah-Lincoln this fall, encouraged to do so by Theater instructor Lane Taylor.

"Layne Taylor was the one who really stressed getting my basics done here before going to a four-year college. At first I was going to major in Theater, but right now I want to major in Psychology, and possibly minor in Theater. At Co-Lin, I plan to work hard and make good grades, which is something I didn't really do in high school I'm sorry to say. I was not very active in my school. At Co-Lin I hope to work hard, and be a dependable person. I would just like to expose myself to more."

Of his experience at the Little Theatre, Williams said, "It has helped me see that everyone is unique, and everyone is important, and that it's very important that you express yourself, that you don't try to be like another person; because you're not that person. You're just as unique and interesting as someone else, so why try and be something you're not?"

On campus, Williams, an Adams County Christian School graduate, has become involved in a variety of organizations. He is News Manager for N-Sights, was elected a freshman favorite and is the Film Club and Trailblazers.

Wolfpack Spirit

The Wolfpack cheerleaders captured second place at the Universal Cheerleading Association's (UCA) Cheer Camp at the University of Alabama this summer. They received superior ribbons each day and were second in cheer, chant, fight song, and second overall. The squad qualified for National Competition.

This year, the cheerleaders sponsored the Wolf Pups, a group of faculty and staff children and grandchildren, ages two through fifth grade, who help form the spirit line at the football games and perform at the basketball games.

Active in the community, the cheerleaders performed community service at the Rockin' Railroad Festival in Hazlehurst and the Ole Brook Festival in Brookhaven.

Love is in the air...

The new school year means new friends, new classes and... romance. Yes, the Blue Wave Show Band examines love, in typical Blue Wave style. As you know, the Blue Wave Show Band usually has a unique twist on its subjects and this year is no exception. The trade mark high energy drill, hot horns, thundering percussion, colorful visuals and just a touch of insanity are all part of this year's show.

The show opens with master of ceremonies, Reed Rodgers of Vicksburg, singing the Platters doo-wop favorite "Only You." Then we invite you to "get on board," the O'Jays "Love Train." The Colettes and Color Guard are featured in the Boys Like Girls pop hit, "Love Drunk." But as is often the case, fall semester romance wilts into "Tainted Love." But trust the Blue Wave Show Band to bring us all back together with a classic "sing-a-long."

The Blue Wave is led by drum major Amber Gibson of Mendenhall. Color guard captain is Danyelle Mott of Monticello. Co-captains are Darla Sellers of Terry and Katelyn White of Monticello. The percussion section is led by Jeffrey Brown of Mendenhall. The Blue Wave Show Band is under the direction of R. Shaw Furlow, Chris Warren, Shelley Smith, Mary Warren and Stanley Stewart, with assistance from Mary Stewart.

Lady Wolves have record breaking 2010 season

By Natalie Davis

It was a record-breaking year for the Co-Lin Lady Wolves soccer team. The Lady Wolves recorded their best season in school history finishing 7-8 overall and 5-5 in the South Division. The mid-season addition of Elizabeth Cudjoe of Ghana added much needed offense to the team.

The Lady Wolves put together a string of four consecutive wins against Southwest, East Central, Holmes and Northwest. All of this with seven sophomores and 14 freshman on the roster.

In addition, for the first time in school history the Lady Wolves swept two teams, East Central and rival Southwest.

The Lady Wolves also excelled in the classroom as they were the NJCAA's No. 17 Academic Team of the Year.

Young Wolfpack continue to improve in 2010

By Natalie Davis

The Wolfpack returned a strong nucleus of sophomores and 17 talented freshmen in 2010. Although they finished the season 3-12 overall and 3-10 in the South Division, the Wolves showed a lot of promise.

Highlighting the 2010 campaign was a season sweep of rival Southwest, 3-2 and 2-1 in a couple of highly competitive matches. This was the first time in program history the Wolfpack swept a season series. They will use that to build on in 2011.

Athletic Trainers

By Natalie Davis

Athletic trainers play a vital role in the health and well-being of all Co-Lin athletes. They attend daily practices as well as all home and away games. They also provide treatment of injuries in the athletic training room located in the Pitts Fieldhouse. Student trainers are under the supervision of Certified Athletic Trainer Matt McClain.

Community Service

By Natalie Davis

Giving back to the community is part of life at Co-Lin. Coaches and players donate their time in the community as volunteers from coaching little league baseball to reading to elementary students.

The Wolfpack football team participated in the American Football Coaches Association Coach To Cure MD campaign during their September 23 game against Jones County to raise money and awareness for Duchene Muscular Dystrophy. They also partnered with the Favre 4 Hope Foundation for Breast Cancer Awareness on October 21 against East Central. Proceeds went to the Favre 4 Hope Foundation.

The baseball team and cheerleaders worked the children's area at the Rockin' Railroad Festival in Hazlehurst in September. The cheerleaders sponsored a face-painting booth and the Wolf mascot provided entertainment. The baseball team assisted children with games and rides.

The men's soccer team and cheerleaders volunteered, along with other Co-Lin students, to pick up trash at Brookhaven's Ole Brook Festival for two days in October.

Both basketball teams participated in a Breast Cancer Awareness Night in Mullen Gym to raise money and awareness for the Favre 4 Hope Foundation.

The baseball team read to elementary students at Wesson Attendance Center this spring.

State & Region 23 CHAMPIONS

By Natalie Davis

It was another storybook year for Head Coach Gwyn Young and his Lady Wolves. The Lady Wolves won the 2011 MACJC State Championship and for the second consecutive year, won the NJCAA Region 23 Championship and a trip to the NJCAA National Tournament in Salina, KS.

The Lady Wolves finished sixth in the National Tournament with an overall record of 29-4 and a 11-1 record in the South Division. This was their first state championship since 2003. The last time an women's team won both titles was the 2006 Northeast Lady Tigers.

By winning the regular season South Division title, Co-Lin hosted the MACJC State Tournament. They defeated first round opponent Northeast 78-66 and semifinal opponent Itawamba 85-76. The Lady Wolves faced rival Jones County for the title. It was the third meeting of the season, each winning at home. In front of a packed house in Mullen Gymnasium, the Lady Wolves played one of their best games of the year in defeating the Lady Bobcats 85-77. Sophomore guard Kiara Etienne led 4 Co-Lin players in double digits with 19 points. G.G. Williams added 15 points, Brandi Simmons 14 and Paige Webster 11.

The Lady Wolves had to turn around the next week and defend their title in the NJCAA Region 23 Tournament in Clinton, MS. Etienne scored a game-high 19 points to lead the No. 13 ranked Lady Wolves to a 65-41 win over the Holmes Lady Bulldogs in the opening round. The Co-Lin Lady Wolves survived a fierce second half rally by the Itawamba Lady Indians to take a 70-65 semifinal win. What looked like a very competitive NJCAA Region 23 Championship game at halftime turned out to be a rout as the Lady Wolves defeated the Meridian Lady Eagles 89-54 to capture their second consecutive NJCAA Region 23 title. Etienne scored 17 points and dished out 5 assists. Sophomore Brandi Simmons posted a double-double with 15 points and 10 rebounds. Sedreka Plummer chipped in 12 points and 9 rebounds.

As the No. 9 seed in the NJCAA National Tournament, the Lady Wolves upset the No. 8 seed Central Arizona Vaqueras 78-68 in the opening round. In the second round, Co-Lin had the task of taking on the No. 1 and undefeated Pensacola State (FL) Lady Pirates. The Lady Pirates flexed their muscle as they defeated the Lady Wolves 70-49. In the next round, Simmons hit two free throws with 19.1 seconds remaining to give the Lady Wolves a 59-56 win over No. 4 State Fair College (MO). In their final game, the No. 6 seed Grayson County (TX) College Lady Vikings defeated Co-Lin 77-68. The Lady Wolves finished in sixth place, bettering last year's seventh place finish.

Sophomore guard Kiara Etienne was named to the NJCAA National All-Tournament Team, NJCAA Region 23 All-Tournament Team, NJCAA All-Region 23 and MACJC First Team All-State. Teammate Brandi Simmons was also named NJCAA Region 23 All-Tournament Team, NJCAA All-Region 23 and MACJC First Team All-State. Simmons was also named the MVP of the MACJC Women's All-Star Game. Paige Webster was named MACJC Second Team All-State.

Wolves one game away from making post-season

By Natalie Davis

It was another tough year for the Wolfpack as they finished the 2010-2011 season 9-12 and 5-9 in the South Division. They lost five of those games by three points or less and were just one game out of qualifying for the State Tournament.

Co-Lin returned only one starter, 6-2 guard Marcus Hooten, from last year's 6-17 team. Hooten led the Wolves in scoring his freshman (23 points per game) and sophomore (21.8 points per game) years. He was the only repeat selection on both the NJCAA First Team All-Region 23 and MACJC First Team All-State.

The Wolves looked to four junior college transfers in hopes of bringing strong play and leadership in 2010-2011. Transfers included guard Ernest Wafer, forwards Antonio Holmes. and Jamaal McCoy, and center Olatunji "TJ" Kosile, a native of Nigeria.

Joining the five sophomores on the team were a talented group of freshman that included guards Jake Reed of Brookhaven Academy, Maurice Williams of Vicksburg High School and Ryan McKinley of Hattiesburg High School and forward Chris Miller of Vicksburg High School.

The Wolves will have a solid nucleus to build on for next season.

BIG man

By Whitney Clark

Co-Lin had six international students enrolled on the college's Wesson Campus this year. The new "big man on campus" was 6-11 Nigerian Olatunji Kosile known to everyone on campus as "TJ." TJ came to Co-Lin after spending one year at Northwest Florida State College in Niceville, Florida.

TJ's hometown of Lagos, Nigeria has a population of eight million people. It is here that TJ learned how to speak the English language. The only adjustment that TJ has had to make is getting used to the small size of Wesson. TJ's first time contact about Co-Lin was when head basketball coach Coach Dennis Sims contacted his basketball coach in Florida.

"It all happened so fast," said TJ jokingly.

TJ is also an excellent student and takes his studies very seriously. He dedicates a lot of his time to his schoolwork and says basketball comes second to his academics. TJ said that he likes the teaching and coaching staff here, and also his teammates, as well as his classmates.

He said that everyone had been very nice to him and really helpful. The Nigerian native was brought in as a center and was counted on to use his extreme length as a rebounder and shot blocker on the 2010-2011 Wolves basketball team. He loves his sport and has hopes of one day making it into a professional career.

In his spare time, TJ likes to practice basketball, listen to music especially hip-hop, and learn new things. TJ said his favorite food here is chicken, but he prefers the food back home which includes pounded yam, juloff rice, root tubber, and suya which is beef made in special preparation.

He can fluently speak two of the four major known languages in Nigeria, Yoruba and Broken English. He cannot speak Igbo or Hausa but has plans of learning these as well. He says that he misses his family back home, but has gotten pretty comfortable living in his new environment.

The next stop on TJ's United States tour is Maryland, where he has signed a national letter of intent to play basketball at the University of Maryland Eastern Shore in Princess Anne, Maryland.

Talented freshmen look to make impact

By Natalie Davis

After two consecutive losing seasons, the Wolfpack look for improvement in 2011 with a mix of veterans and a talented freshmen class. Lack of pitching depth last season left Co-Lin with an overall record of 17-29 and a South Division record of 5-18.

The keys to the success in 2011 will be how quickly the freshmen adjust to college play and finding the right team chemistry.

Lost to graduation are MACJC First Team All-State outfielder Kendall Logan (46th round draft pick of the Atlanta Braves/Jackson State University signee) and MACJC Second Team All-State centerfielder/left hand pitcher Jeff DeBlieux (University of South Alabama signee). Also graduating were pitcher/third baseman Matthew Freeman, catchers Ryne Tutor and Tyler Hue, shortstop Luke Brumfield, first baseman Cable McMinn, pitchers Mitch Tidwell and Marshun Hall.

Diamond Dolls

The Diamond Dolls are an integral part of the Co-Lin Baseball Program. These young ladiies work in various areas of the program. They are the friendly faces that will greet you at the gate at all Wolfpack home games at Sullivan Field. Home games will also find the Diamond Dolls working in the concession stand on the third base side of the stadium. Away from the field the Diamond Dolls serve as hostesses to recruits on campus. They give campus tours and entertain them in the dining facilities. The Diamond Dolls spend quality time in making the Co-Lin Baseball Program successful.

Lady Wolves finish 2010 with 30-18 worksheet

By Natalie Davis

The Lady Wolves will only return a few familiar faces for the 2011 season. Head Coach Allen Kent only has three starters returning from last year's 30 win squad.

"At this point, we have 12 freshmen coming in, our largest signing class ever," said head coach Allen Kent. " In addition to youth, they primarily also come from very small schools. The vast majority of our in-district players hail from 1A or 2A schools. It's a matter of doing your homework and getting the best available players out there, no matter what size school they come from."

Returnees include All-Region 23 pitcher Bethany Pinkston, Second Team All-State first baseman/catcher Haley Sones, catcher Lakin Lockhart and outfielder Erika Rutland.

Incoming freshmen include a quartet from Loyd Star Attendance Center, pitcher Brooke Delaughter, infielder Carrie Moak, outfielders Emily Smith and Leah Britt. Infielder Kacey Smith of Franklin County, outfielder Stevie Ann Wright of Brookhaven High, outfielder Ashley McCaffery of Bogue Chitto, utility Ashley Bounds of Magee, outfielder Bobbie Cochran and twin sister, infielder Jamie Cochran of Seminary, pitcher Sarah Anthony of Live Oak, LA and infielder Tammy Alford of Fisher High School in Lafitte, LA.

Pinkston looks for some much needed help in the circle. Injuries last year forced Pinkston to shoulder the majority of the workload.

"Bethany did a great job for us last year, giving us a chance to win nearly every time she stepped out there," said Kent. "However, we are looking forward to her having not having to throw as much, keeping our staff fresh down the stretch."

Pinkston posted a 29-12 record and a 1.75 ERA. She set the school record for strikeouts with 304 and wins with 29.

Delaughter comes in with a state championship title under her belt.

"We look for her to continue to improve on her spins and movement pitches," said Kent.

Anthony brings depth to the pitching staff. Her junior and senior seasons were very successful, making it deep into the playoffs. She also has extensive summer travel ball experience.

Sones is the lone returning infielder from last season. She returned from shoulder surgery and shared some time at catcher with Lockhart last season. Sones lead the team in RBI (27) and triples (5) and was second in batting average (.409), hits (63) and doubles (12) as a freshman.
Lockhart was very solid behind the plate last season, boasting an exceptional arm. She also hit for a .305 average with 25 RBI. She lead the team in walks and sacrifices.

Rutland saw action in 27 games and hit for a .279 average.

Like always, the South Division will be a battle from top to bottom. Regional champions East Central returns most of their starters. Region runner-up Mississippi Gulf Coast returns another strong squad. Pearl River finished fourth in the division and won the State Tournament. Jones will be vastly improved. Southwest beat South Champion Gulf Coast 3 out of 4 last year and continues to improve, losing several close games last year. Hinds has an outstanding district and will always be tough.

"As usual, we will be a fairly small team, relying on speed and defense, rather than home runs," Kent said. "We have five girls who can slap, so that will be a different look for us."

The Lady Wolves dealt with injuries the entire 2010 season. Staying healthy will be a big key to success in 2011. Another key will be how quickly the freshmen adapt to the speed of the college game.

Game, Set, Match

By Natalie Davis

After finishing the 2010 season the NJCAA's No. 3 Academic Team of the Year and with a solid 8-3 record, the Lady Wolves will look to a strong class of freshmen in 2011.

Coach Holli Pepper has several freshman with a lot of tennis experience, just not at the collegiate level.

Incoming freshmen include Alex Lea of Brookhaven, who represented Mississippi at USTA Southern Tournaments. She was Brookhaven's MVP her junior year and was District and State Champion. Macie Case and Ansley Schimmel, both of Wesson, were State Finalists in doubles in 2010. Case was the team's MVP 2007-2010 and Schimmel was MVP in 2009 and 2010.

Leah Manoley of Adams County Christian School was District champion in singles and doubles. Kristen Hall of West Lincoln and Jeaneast Lofton of Loyd Star were both District finalists.

Also joining the Lady Wolves are Hannah Calcote of Lawrence County and Katherine Scarborough of Franklin County.

Anchoring the 2011 team are Katie Beth Case of Brookhaven (No. 2 singles/No. 1 doubles in 2010, MAIS State AA Champion) and Nicole Magee of Magee (No. 3 singles/No. 2 doubles in 2010, MAIS South State Runner-Up).

Lost to graduation are Heather Huff (No. 4 singles/No. 2 doubles) and Mary Catherine McDonnieal (NJCAA Distinguished Academic All- American, No. 5 singles/No. 3 doubles), both of Brookhaven, and Rosa Young of Crystal Springs (No. 1 singles/No. 1 doubles).

Once again, Coach Mike McIntyre's team achieved another successful season as they finished fourth in the MACJC State and NJCAA Region Tournament and as the NJCAA's No. 4 Academic Team of the Year. The Wolfpack finished the season with a 12-3 record.

The 2011 team will have big shoes to fill with the loss of five out of six starters. Columbian Nico Osorio (Belhaven University signee), was a State Finalist in No. 1 singles. He and doubles partner Reed Rodgers were State Finalists in No. 2 doubles. Rodgers was a State Quarter finalist at No. 4 singles. Both were named MACJC Second Team All-State.

Fellow Colombian Chicho Chaves (Belhaven University signee) and his partner Reilly Miller were State Semi-Finalists in No. 1 doubles. Both were State Semi-Finalist in singles, Chaves at No. 2 and Miller at No. 3. Also lost to graduation is No. 3 doubles/No. 6 singles Colby Bass.

Returning players include Joey Shelton, Jon McLeod, Levi Weeks, and Blaine Roberts.

The team will depend heavily on the incoming freshmen class that includes "world-class" players Marko Knezevic and Mario Huljev, both of Zadar, Croatia; John Calcote and Matthew Hart, both of Brookhaven; Chris Haley of Monticello.

Swinging for success

By Natalie Davis

With five members of the 2009 State Championship team returning, Coach Ronny Ross was looking for big things in 2010. But things didn't work out quite the way he thought as the Wolfpack finished third in the MACJC State Tournament and fourth in the NJCAA Region 23 Tournament.

There were some bright spots including a first place finish in the MACJC fourth event hosted by Northeast Mississippi Community College in Corinth.

Sophomore Derin Petite took medalist honors in the first event of the season hosted by Mississippi Gulf Coast Community College. Petite claimed fourth place honors and was named to the All-Tournament Team in the second event of the season hosted by East Central Community College in Forest. Petite was named MACJC First Team All-State.

Sophomore Clay Price finished tied for seventh place at the State Tournament and was named to the All-Tournament Team.

Lost to graduation were Petite, Price, Jake Smith, Donnie McFarland, and Bradley Boykin.

Returning to the 2011 team are Berry Givens, Ben Goff, and Bennett Ruschewski.

Ross has signed five freshmen that should boost the golf program for the next few years. Freshmen include Justin Danise, who is the kicker/punter for the Wolfpack football team; Colby Woodward, Keaton Stamps, David Nichols, and Justin Foreman.

"Coming off of a disappointing season, this could be one of the most talented group I have ever had," said Ross. "I'm very excited about the upcoming season. Competition for the team should be close."

Ross begins his 11th year as Co-Lin's golf coach. He also serves as director of golf operations at Wolf Hollow Golf Course. He led the 2009 Wolfpack golf team to their first-ever MACJC Division II State Championship and was named 2009 MACJC Coach of the Year.

Mission to Africa

By Brian Ensminger
N-Sights

Life takes us in many different directions, and Co-Lin student Alicia Muncy, discovered a new direction during a two-week mission trip to Senegal, Africa, during the summer. "We never shoved Jesus down their throats, we spoke in love, and we went to give back the childhood that had been stolen from them."

On the first day, Muncy remembered arriving at 5 a.m. "As soon as we got off of the plane, we got on a bus with a lot of people. The bus drove us to the terminal and as we walked inside, there were guards with guns and army ware, and we got our baggage to meet our crew, and while we were walking to the vans, we were mobbed by men trying to steal or take our bags to the van for a tip." She said, "The first day felt like a dream." They went to the Centre Baptist Home and slept until 11.

The 15-member mission team was sponsored by the International Mission Board. Participants included missionaries from around the world.

The participants learned the children of Africa did not know what affection was. When someone on the team encouraged or told a child they did a good job on arts and crafts, they realized they were being given attention. Muncy said the missionaries noticed the children would rather have someone paying attention to them than to eat. The children were so into the Bible stories that they basically came "alive" and the excitement on their faces made the team more enthusiastic about the stories. Muncy said, "I felt like they were my own kids."

She said she had many heart-felt moments, but one in particular she won't forget. "When I was working at a center for orphan children, we were playing soccer, and there was a 4-year-old kid named Modou. He had fallen and scraped his knee badly. I got him and walked him across the street to the center, and as we were waiting to cross the street, I realized that I was holding him so he wouldn't get hit by the cars, but that's when I realized that I wouldn't be there for every street he crossed, but Jesus would be. That is when I realized God was his protector, but even though I wouldn't be there, I was going to protect him while I had him."

One person she met that she will never forget was a missionary named Gay, who lived in Africa for eight years with her husband, Stan.

Muncy described her as a "firecracker." She and her husband taught the team what to expect, and how to immerse themselves into the African culture.

One day, Gay took three of the girls, along with Muncy, to the market, and they were mobbed by the merchants. Gay held her ground, and got them to go away. Muncy said, "She was an amazing lady who loved the Lord."

Muncy said she drew inspiration from Gay's life decisions. "Gay inspires me in that she would give up her family, friends, and comfort to follow the Lord. I saw the same calling in her life that I feel is in my life, which is kind of scary. It is scary to take that step of faith and answer the true calling."

Muncy said her experience taught her about others, "I've learned that people have an unwilling mindset towards missions to Africa because of disease and danger. I have also learned that God provides, and the missionaries there were not sick, and were safe. I have also learned that you can be content with very, very little."

While in Africa, Muncy learned a few things about herself. "I've learned to humble myself and learn that God is the provider and protector, and those kids are His and He has not forgotten them." She added, "That was a hard lesson to learn. When you see kids without shoes, beaten, bruised, and abandoned, it does something to your heart."

She said, "I don't believe we can ever feel suited for mission work, but God equips us with the skills and talents we need to do His work, and He gives us the passion for what He has called us to do." She shared that she had that passion since she was 12 to go to Africa. She recalled the hardest thing about returning home was seeing how bountiful Americans' lives are, knowing how little people in Africa have.

"I want to return, definitely, but this time for a longer stay. I am thinking about taking a semester off from college to go back and live there because it took two weeks for them to open up, and I would love to be there to form stronger bonds with them because two weeks is not long enough. Two weeks was long enough to create a bond, but not long enough to sustain it. Asalamalakum (God Be With You)."

A trip to remember....

By Rosamond Dees

In the spring, staff member Judy Heard took a trip she will not soon forget.

Heard traveled with a group from Natchez to Mexico's Yucatan region where they participated in the Living Waters for the World project.

Living Waters for the World is a project to install water purification systems in impoverished areas that do not have access to clean water.

"I learned that the reward for me was greater than the sacrifice; I also saw firsthand the empty allusion of material goods," said Heard, Career Technical Student Service Coordinator and Disabilities Service Coordinator for the Natchez campus. "These people were truly happy and content and they really have nothing."

The missionaries are members of the First Presbyterian Church in Natchez which has helped several communities in Mexico, not just with water purification systems, but with donations and items.

"I would definitely go again. It was definitely a mountaintop experience," Heard said.

The group arrived first in the town of Merida where they toured the Mayan ruin at Dzibilchaltun, then continued the next day to Campeche, a distance of 125 miles. There, the mission team visited several water purification systems installed by Living Waters for the World. The town of China, Mexico, received its system through the First Presbyterian congregation.

While in China, the team also conducted a Bible school for 30 to 40 students, and visited the local church Inglesia El Divino Salvador (The Church of the Divine Savior). The group helped with two other bible schools with about 150 children attending.

"I certainly expected a language barrier. I also knew I would love the children I would meet. As it turned out the language barrier was very minor. The children understood us very well and we were loved by them with no reservations," Heard said.

"It was so wonderful to see my friends in a new light; to see their enthusiasm, their generosity, and their sacrifice," said Heard.

Heard said, "I will never forget how difficult it was to say goodbye. Many fellow church members have gone on these trips for years and they are so loved by these families. I will use my experience to encourage others to go on mission trips and I will also remember to be thankful for the many blessings we have in America."

"The road of life twists and turns and no two directions are ever the same. Yet our lessons come from the journey, not the destination."

-Don Williams, Jr.

"The future is not a result of choices among alternative paths offered by the present, but a place that is created - created first in the mind and will, created next in activity. The future is not some place we are going to, but one we are creating."

The Trillium Staff...

This year has been quite the journey! We feel this yearbook reflects the journey of Co-Lin faculty, staff and students throughout the 2010-11 school year. We also feel it is a wonderful reminder of the hard work and dedication each staff member has devoted since the very beginning. From our trip to Hattiesburg, Mississippi to design the cover, to the theme we have exhibited within the book, we have had to make choices so that our book would be complete and our school well represented. As we pondered each and every decision, large or small, regarding the publication of this yearbook, we came to the conclusion that life is exactly the same. Each person starts at a point of beginning, standing before the "pathways" of the future. The decision one makes, whether to go left or to go right, will ultimately lead to an end.

Throughout life, we encounter many people who assist us or take our hand when the path gets a little bumpy. These people are the ones who we remember and strive to be like. Publishing this yearbook would not be possible without the untimely commitment of our advisor, Natalie Davis. She contributes so many hours, not only to the yearbook, but to all three of Co-Lin's campuses. She is a wonderful asset to our college, and without her help, none of this would have been achievable.

We hope you have enjoyed flipping through the pages of the 80th edition of the Trillium yearbook, and we anticipate that it will forever be a cherishable memory of the path you traveled while at Copiah-Lincoln Community College.

Sincerely,
Laney McQuage and Rachel Hayman Co-Editors
and Sarah Burke
